Navigation

Fog Signal: A fog horn and radio beacon are located at the end of the north jetty with 2 second fog blasts sounded every 20 seconds and recognizable up to 1/4-mile from the harbor entrance at the breakwater.

The foghorn can be activated by clicking a VHF radio on channel 83 five times. Doing so will activate the foghorn for 30 min.

Harbor Basins: Eight (8) basins lettered A through H are located in Marina del Rey.

Harbor Depth: The average harbor depth in Marina del Rey is 15-21 feet.

Hazards: Shoaling conditions can exist at both north and south jetties. Shoal buoys have been placed to warn boaters of entrance hazards and boats should not pass inside marked buoys.

Anchored vessels adjacent to Marina del Rey entrance pose another hazard to navigation in reduced visibility and extreme caution is advised when transiting this area.

During the winter months, you can expect very low tides. Prudent boaters should consult local Tide Tables whenever they expect to traverse hazardous areas prone to shoaling conditions.

Boaters may contact the Marina del Rey Sheriff's Station on VHF Marine Radio, Channel 16 or by telephone at (310) 482 6000 for updated information on the entrance conditions.

Navigation Lights:

South Jetty red light flashes every 4 seconds

South Breakwater green light flashes every 6 seconds

North Breakwater red light flashes every 6 seconds

North Jetty green light flashes every 4 seconds
